[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT. 3.

The Emperor Napoleon Surrenders at Sedan with his whole Army!

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Berlin telegrams announce the capitulation and surrender of the entire French army at Sedan.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The following highly important dispatch has just been made public here:

BEFORE SEDAN, France, Sept. 2, 1:22 P. M.—From King to Queen—A capitulation whereby the whole army at Sedan are prisoners of war, has just been concluded with Gen. Wimpfen, commanding, instead of McMahon, who is wounded. The Emperor surrendered himself to me, as he has no command, and left everything to the Regent at Paris. His residence I shall appoint, after an interview with him, at a rendezvous to be fixed immediately. What a course events, with God's guidance, have taken.

The News Confirmed by Minister Motley.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The following telegram [illegible] at the State Department this morning from Minister Motley, dated London, Sept. 3: [illegible] Emperor Napoleon surrendered yesterday, [illegible] Sedan, to the King of Prussia. The whole French army at Sedan are prisoners of war. [Signed] MOTLEY.

Additional Confirmations.

LONDON, Sept. 3d, 3:30 P. M.—The following is just received from Berlin: The particulars of the battle of the 1st inst. still deficient, although at Paris it is thought the contest resulted in favor of the French. The Emperor certainly made a demand by letter for peace, and then came in personally and surrendered.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Though the French cable is working to-day, nothing has been received from the French agent of the Associated Press, which indicates that the censor has forbidden the transmission of political news.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—News of the surrender of Napoleon comes through the regular Associated Press channels, and by special dispatches to various bankers and private individuals. It causes great excitement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—A special dispatch to the the New York Telegraph says a special dated September 3d, furnishes us with reliable information confirming the purport of the telegram from King William to the Queen of Prussia, dated Sedan, Sept. 2. Special dispatches from the seat of war report a most brilliant Prussian success. 20,000 Prussians and 10,000 French soldiers lay killed or wounded upon the battlefield.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Germans are urging King William to declare himself Emperor of Germany.

Delayed Dispatches—General Details of Recent Battles.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Paris correspondent of the Globe vouches for the truth of the following: A gigantic battle has been in progress since Wednesday morning near the forest of Argonnes. A dispatch from the Emperor to the Empress, Thursday afternoon, says: All goes wonderfully well, our plans all succeeded.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 2.—Rumors of French reverses continue. Throngs of French soldiers who crossed into Belgian territory have been disarmed.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A Tribune special dispatch from Brussels at 4 o'clock this morning says McMahon is completely beaten, and is shut up in Sedan. Bazaine has also been beaten before Metz by Prince Frederick Charles. 25,000 French infantry, 500 cavalry, two cannon and several military trains that crossed the Belgian frontier have laid down their arms.

Accounts are utterly contradictory, but the probability is that the French won a victory at one point and the Prussians at another.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—It is asserted that the King of Prussia is insane and has been taken to Berlin.

The Council of the State of Paris think of fixing the price of bread and provisions, owing to the rapacity of dealers.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Paris journals all publish letters from correspondents to-day, corroborating the news previously published of successes to our arms. Both sides have received heavy reinforcements. Calais and St. Pierre are to be put in a complete state of defence.

Paris journals demand the dismissal of Gen Failly, whose management of his corps in a recent battle betrayed great incapacity.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The French Emperor, attended by eminent surgeons, is now with Marshal McMahon.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Evening—Palikao, in the Corps Legislatif, declared he had received no official news from McMahon or Bazaine.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 1.—Rumors of French reverses are still continued. About seven hundred Prussians and two thousand French were forced into Belgian territory, laid down their arms, and will pass through this evening for Bruges or Lokeren.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune says: The Prussians are between the frontier and the northern fortresses, and McMahon has probably been cut off from the last road left him to Paris.

The Prussian corps engaged in Thursday's battle, viz: the 4th 5th, 11th, and 12th guards and Bavarians, comprise 174,000 infantry, 17,000 cavalry, and 480 guns, nearly half of which belonged to the army of the Crown Prince of Prussia. McMahon's whole force engaged was probably 150,000, of all arms. Reinforcements from Paris could not have reached him.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A telegram from Floraville, Belgium near Luxemburg says on Wednesday the French, after fighting seven hours, fell back on Sedan, the Prussians holding the ground of action, but with fearful losses. Yesterday was spent in burying the dead, but this morning the French unexpectedly assumed the offensive in force, at daybreak, and have been driving the Prussians all day long. The cannonading is tremendous and the fighting is fiercer than on Wednesday. It is reported that the French have driven a considerable force of Prussians in disorder across the Belgian frontier, where they were immediately disarmed.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—An evening special to the New York Times says, at Carignan, McMahon defeated the left wing and centre of the enemy and forced the right wing to retreat.

The Bishop of Verdun was killed on the 28th while carrying the white flag.

The journals state that the report of the insanity of the King of Prussia is confirmed.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A special cable to the Herald states that the official German account of the battle at Metz reports that Bazaine was evidently acting in concert with McMahon. The battle lasted a day, and at night Bazaine was driven back after displaying great valor. The loss of life on both sides was terrific.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—A dispatch just received has the following: Since Wednesday, Bazaine has fought to escape to the north, but has always been prevented by Gen. Manteuffel, who was directed by Prince Frederick Charles.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—The Journal Official this morning represents courageously, the events of the campaign as successes of the Emperor. It is really believed in Paris that McMahon is acting on the offensive; that on Thursday he destroyed the Prussian left, obliging the Crown Prince to fall back on the hills of Argonne.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—The following has just been received here: "LONDON, Sept. 3—noon—Gen. Failly has been shot. One account says by McMahon, others by his own soldiers."

The Empress has sent for Prince Napoleon to return to Paris. He has refused, and a decree has been issued, stripping him of his rank as Prince and Senator, and withdrawing his donations.

The Figaro of this city says the French were utterly defeated.

The Emperor and McMahon are prisoners.

The French soldiers massacre their own officers and many of the latter have escaped to Belgium.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—The following is official:

MUNSTER, Sept. 2.—The French at Strasburg opened with an effectual fire along the entire line. An artillery duel ensued. The Prussian losses are unknown. When the telegram was sent they certainly were unimportant.

The French made a sortie against the Isle of Wonken, and on the railway near the station of Schrentr. A battalion of Baden grenadiers repulsed them and drove them back into the city. A second parallel is nearly finished.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 3.—Additional bodies of French troops passed the Belgian frontier, near Bouillon, and were promptly disarmed. In one body there were 3,000 men. There were one General and several officers of the Imperial staff, who gave up their swords.

A special dispatch from Brussels, dated Sept. 2, reports that the Prussians who entered Belgium, and surrendered at the requisition of Belgian authorities, have been sent to Burges. The French, captured at the same time, have been lodged in the citadel of the same city. The greater part of the officers of both forces have been set at liberty on parole, and have placed themselves in service on the Sanitary Commission.

Terrible Fire at Samsoun—Asia Minor

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Telegrams from Constantinople bring news that the sea port of Samsoun, in Asia Minor, has been destroyed by fire. Twenty-five hundred houses, six churches, and many lives were lost. The inhabitants are suffering terribly from want of food and shelter. Another conflagration is reported in Yenerge, Macedon. Losses unknown.

Another Massacre by Chinese.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—A cable dispatch says private telegrams from Pekin announce another massacre by Chinese there. The British Consul is said to have been one of the victims.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 3.—The news of the defeat of Bazaine and McMahon, the surrender of McMahon's army, and the downfall of Napoleon, received early this morning by the Associated Press, created the wildest excitement seen here since the fall of Richmond. Business is suspended almost wholly, and nothing is talked of but the news. The French appear completely stunned and crushed by the blow, but the Germans having been confident from the first, are less elated than might have been expected.

General Sherman and staff, General Schofield and staff, General Ord and staff, Admiral Turner, Admiral Farquhar of the British navy, the foreign Consuls, Governor Haight and staff, General Hewston and staff, and State and Federal officers, all accepted the invitation of the California Pioneers to join in the celebration of the twentieth Anniversary of the admission of California into the Union, at Mare Island, on the 9th instant. The Twelfth Infantry band will accompany the excursionists.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 3.—The jury in the Annie Mooney case, at Brooklyn, have rendered a verdict that she came to her death from narcotic poison, administered by some one to the jury unknown. About half a grain was found on an analysis of her stomach, and the physician who prescribed for her testifies that he ordered but but one-fourth of a grain. The verdict leaves the whole matter in doubt, but the excitement is over. Conductor George Wood, who was implicated, has been honorably discharged.

The Colorado to-day had only $7,600 in treasure to Panama, and merchandise to New York to the value of $106,000, including 117,500 pounds of wool, 7,000 hides—an unusually heavy shipment—8,000 gallons of California wine, 200 centals of mustard seed, and 1,745 half chests of tea, brought by the last China steamer, in transit for New York.

John H. Woodbury and wife sue the North Beach and Mission Railroad for $5,000 damages for injuries to Mrs. Woodbury by her dress catching on the step of the car and dragging her some yards.

The census reporters will show about 145,000 inhabitants in San Francisco.

Helena Gumpel declared her intention in the County Clerk's office to-day to become a citizen of the United States. She stated that she would be blessed if she would pay any more taxes in a country in which she was not a citizen.

Earl Barkett has commenced proceedings here to compel the Supervisors of Lake county to give him and his associates title to the marsh lands around Clear Lake.

The Germans are celebrating their victories to night with much spirit. Many Chinese bombs are being fired, and the streets are crowded with people.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

From Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 3.—Siloy, supposed to have been present at the killing of Thos. Cordie, on Wednesday night, who suddenly disappeared, was arrested this morning as an accessory.

Stockton Dispatch

STOCKTON, Sept. 3.—John Megher, of San Joaquin city, sustained a compound fracture of the leg, and severe internal injuries to day. Particulars of the accident not received.

The Germans are firing a salute of 100 guns to-night over the receipt of the news of Prussian victories. Speakers are now addressing the people. Great enthusiasm prevails.

ARIZONA.

Indian Depredations.

DENVER, Sept. 3.—The Santa Fe Post says the last Tucson mail coach was captured and burned by Indians west of Fort Bowie, Arizona. Jack Collins, the conductor, his driver, and two soldiers, composing an escort, were killed. Collins' eyes were gouged out and his body terribly mutilated. Governor Pile has issued a proclamation warning all persons against unlawful trading with Indians, which has been carried on extensively of late. Several minor outrages have been committed by the Indians south of Santa Fe, recently. Considerable stock has been run off and several persons killed.

NEVADA.

CARSON, Sept. 3.—The dwelling of Moritz Fisher was entirely destroyed by fire at 12 o'clock this morning. The flames communicated to the adjoining house of H. O. Beatty, which was also entirely consumed. Loss, about $1,000; fully insured. Beatty's loss in house amounts to $4,000; insured for $3,000; furniture insured for $500.

RENO, Sept. 3.—Receipts of freight at the Central Pacific depot the past week was 970 tons.

A row occurred among Chinese laborers in the lumber yard this afternoon. Knives and pistols were drawn. The combatants were quieted before much damage was done.

The mitrailleur, it appears, is by no means so novel an invention as has been supposed. On the 12th of August, 1792, a gentleman named Renard offered to the National Assembly a machine of the sort, by which one man could, in a second, fire ninety shots. The Moniteur of that date announced that the invention had been referred to the Military Commission, and there's an end of it. In 1818 a locksmith invented and exhibited a kind of machine which he chose to call a "bullet pump." It also disappeared after a time without attracting notice. In the exhibition of 1867 M. Renault, a Frenchman, showed an instrument called "A reaper of men," by which 8,000 bullets could be fired per minute by three persons. It had seventeen barrels. M. Renault and his invention have alike both been lost sight of. M. Perrot conceived the idea of three sorts of mitrailleurs, all worked by compressed air. The first two fired bullets, and the only difference was that the first one was stationary and the other movable. The other was a sort of baliste, and threw stones, fire or any other projectile to annoy the enemy. The following year, 1868, the real mitrailleur was discovered. What its powers are in war remain to be proved. The Prussians have also some machine of the sort, a model of the form they use was shown at the exhibition of 1867. It is believed that it could not fire more than 100 or 200 balls a minute.

Smith, looking over the garden fence of his friend Jones, late on Saturday afternoon, saw Jones in the act of digging angle worms. "Jones," said he, "I hope you are not going to break the Sabbath." "No," replied Jones, as he drew out a fat fellow, "I expect to make a whole day of it."

LETTER FROM YAMHILL.

LAFAYETTE, Sept. 4, 1870.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

The people of Yamhill county are watching with deep interest the action of those who are moving in railroad matters in Oregon. The shameful manner in which they have been deceived and swindled by W. T. Newby and his confederates in the late west side humbug has served to awaken in the minds of the people of this county a correct opinion of the men who are engaged in railroad enterprises in this State. Hitherto the mass of the Democracy of Yamhill have been led to believe through the misrepresentations of the Democratic organ at Portland that Senator Williams was hostile to their interests and subservient to the interests of Mr. Holladay. The recent developments, bringing to light the sharp practice of the late west side managers, and the truckling speech and letters of that pious demagogue J. S. Smith have dispelled all confidence heretofore entertained by Democrats in the asseverations of either Mr. Smith or his puerile Portland organ. Among the people at this time, regardless of politics, Senator Williams is looked upon as the champion of every scheme likely to insure a railroad on the west side of the river. They expect more of him during the three months he has got to serve in the Senate than they anticipate from six years service of any man who may be elected to succeed him. His bold and fearless advocacy of the rights of Southern Oregon and his successful management of the bill granting land to aid in the construction of the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville road are facts too patent to be overlooked by the most prejudiced mind. It is well known here that J. S. Smith labored in Congress to amend the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville bill in such a manner as would have effectually killed it: it is also known that he favored the Pengra scheme, which would have left Southern Oregon out in the cold. Knowing these things, it is not strange that the people should regard Mr. Smith with mingled feelings of anger and contempt when he stands up before them claiming an interest in Senator Williams' labor which he would fain have rendered barren of any good results.

W. T. Newby is fully alive to the facts above stated, and he is striving hard to turn them to account in the contest he is making for a seat in the State Senate. He represents to his few friends that Smith will be Senator unless he (Newby) gets his seat. He claims that Kelly is pledged to him, to work for the interest of the West Side, hence he declares openly for Kelly against all opposition. On these and other similar representations he hopes to induce the Kelly men in the Legislature to act together, and with the aid of a few of the Smith-Grover men, who are to be deceived into their interests, to oust Dr. Watts, Lu. Laughlin and Al. Husey, the fairly elected Republican members and admit himself, Shuck and Townsend. This, he declares, is the only way by which the Smith Grover ring can be broken and Kelly elected. The scheme is a plausible one and its success depends on whether Mr. Newby can cajole the Salem ring into the work of lawlessness he proposes. Newby will have no scruples as to the means he uses in accomplishing his designs. The audacity he exhibits in attempting to contest for a seat in the Senate, stamps him as a man capable of any act of duplicity or brazen effrontery. In speaking of the contest which he is still prosecuting, an old Democratic resident of this county recently remarked that "Newby seduced the party when he got the nomination," and that if, after being fairly beaten, he succeeded in getting a seat in the Legislature, it would be "a clear case of gross outrage on the Democracy of Yamhill." The old gentleman's illustration was slightly forcible but eminently correct. The people of Yamhill do not desire Mr. Newby as their State Senator. They said so at the polls and then repeated it through the verdict of the Court, which recently sat a whole week in this place listening to evidence both pro and con in the case. Could the voice of the people be heard since the development of Newby's conduct in the late west side failure, it would be almost united against him without regard to politics.

The prejudice engendered in the minds of many people in this county against Ben Holladay, can no longer be made effective as a Democratic watch word. Nor can Democrats be maddened by their leaders telling them that Ben Holladay is in favor of the re-election of Senator Williams. The fact is that it is said boldly by many who act with the Democratic party that the Legislature should rise above party and return the man who has done so much for the State and who is able to accomplish so much more. Though isolated for want of communication with the outside world, the people of Yamhill county like those of more favored localities have caught the inspiration of the age, and partisan wrangling will cease in the future when it conflicts with the general weal. A more prominent future, therefore, awaits our county and State as a result of this return to a sense of real instead of imaginary interests and change of prejudice for reason. May the first fruit of the new era be gathered by our Legislature, soon to meet in the selection of the best man to represent our young and growing State in the Senate of the United States is the wish of YAMHILL.

THE TERRITORIES.

680,000 acres of land will be surveyed in Washington Territory this year.

The population of several of the counties of Washington Territory is as follows: Skamania, 133; Kickitat, 329; Yakima, 409; Thurston, 2,300.

The city authorities visited the liquor establishment of Paul Engelbrecht at Salt Lake, August 26th, and destroyed his entire stock, valued at $20,000. Lawyers are confident that the city must pay for the damages.

John Hailey, the indefatigable stage man who lately retired from that business, we see by the Boise Statesman has bought all the meat market business in that city. He had been three days out of business and couldn't stand it any longer.

At Salt Lake, August 27, T. B. Stenhouse published a full account of the outrage upon himself and wife. The Gentile citizens have offered rewards for the apprehension of the ruffians, and attorneys there have volunteered to prosecute without fee.

From Thomas Johnson, who has just returned from taking the census of the country lying north of us in Washington Territory, says the Dalles paper, we learn there is plenty of land for farmers and stock raisers still unoccupied. This section of country is known as about the best for stock range that we have east of the mountains, and as for agricultural purposes it can't be beat in any country.

A few days ago the bark Carlotta, of Seabeck, in entering the Straits of Fuca, drifted on to Duncan Rock in a calm, and stove a hole in her bottom near the keel. It took all hands at the pumps to keep her afloat until they beached her at Neah Bay, where she now lies high and dry. She was loaded with general merchandise for ports on the Sound. The captain expects to get her off, but the cargo is nearly all damaged.

The Seattle Intelligencer says: "Messrs. Pike, Wheeler and Best have now about 1,000 bushels of oysters planted on the flats of Seattle Bay, which were taken from Samish Bay, and they are calculating upon a great deal of success attending their undertaking. This company are very extensively engaged in this business at the present time, and have made arrangements to supply all demands. We have had a sample of there bivalves, and think in point of size and for delicacy of flavor they are superior to any found upon this coast."

Not having heard from the debating society in relation to the conundrum, "Why do hens always lay eggs in the day time?" a cotemporary answers, "Because at night they are roosters."

MONDAY MORNING SEPTEMBER 5 1870

The Fall of France

The world was astonished at the sad war and its results, it is infinitely more astonished at the sudden and complete overthrow of the power and prestige of France. This is one of those overwhelming events which falls upon the awe-struck nations amazing and confounding them with its suddenness and magnitude. History shall be searched in vain for anything to equal the disaster that has fallen upon France. It had been supposed that great events had heretofore transpired in Europe but this eclipses them all. The game of war has often been played upon that theater but never with such astonishing results.

Each following day
Became the next day's master, till the last
Made former wonders its. Now this mask
Was cry'd incomparable, and the ensuing one
Made it a fool and beggar.

This war has been remarkable for the suddenness, vigor and weight of the German onset, and for the unexpected feebleness and mismanagement that have characterized all the operations of the French. Germany though not arrogant, was ready for war. France, though eager to fight and willing to seize any pretext for a quarrel, was totally unprepared for the shock. The result is a greater catastrophe to France than any nation has experienced in modern times. The overthrow of Prussia by the First Napoleon does not equal it, for though Prussia fell she did not fall from so great a height, and therefore her calamity was not so complete or dreadful.

France is not exhausted, she has fallen a victim to the most signal mismanagement and incapacity that ever betrayed a great nation. Her Emperor instead of proving himself fit to lead a nation in such a crisis has become one of the most ridiculous and contemptible figures in history. He has ended his life of a charlatan by exhibiting himself as a poltroon, on a stage upon upon which the eyes of all mankind were fastened.

War was declared by the French authorities with a precipitation which under the circumstances quite astonished the world. Then, having declared war, the Emperor was content. He proceeded leisurely with his preparations, as if he were going on a triumphal tour to Berlin, but had resolved to wait some weeks to allow an abatement of the heats of summer. Having at length collected a part of his army he set out, all clinquant, for the Rhine. The war began with a masquerade. The adventure of "Louis and I" has it not passed into history? The war has ended so far at least as the Emperor is concerned in it in a manner which perfectly accords with its opening scene. The "baptism of fire" and "I cannot die at the head of my army," —how exceedingly appropriate to each other! The unities of history are preserved! And the Emperor has gained a place in history that no other potentate has ever reached. Nobody else ever surrendered an army of one hundred thousand men.

The French troops have fought bravely at every point, but they have had no leadership. They have been outnumbered and overmatched, but have stood up with steady courage and inflicted enormous losses on their enemies. There can hardly be a doubt that the Germans have lost more in battle than the French. Had the French possessed any leaders they might at least have succeeded in defending their country against invasion. What military skill there was in the army appears to have been neutralized by the presence and fole meddling of the Emperor. It may be remembered that at the battle of Magenta he came near being made a prisoner not having judgment enough to keep out of the enemy's hands, though his army was victorious. McMahon saved him there by preventing him from riding right into the Austrian lines. This is the Emperor to whose military genius France owes her present downfall.

It is now known that the French army was hardly more than half as large as it appeared on paper. Not more than three hundred thousand men have been engaged on the French side in the present war. It was a magnificent army on paper, and that was all there was of it. To a corrupt and inefficient administration this state of things was due. The Emperor when he massed his army on the Rhine found it only half as large as he expected. He said he was "betrayed by corruption and treachery" but it was his business to know the actual condition and strength of the army, and not allow the country to be sacrificed by corruptionists and peculators. The First Napoleon pitilessly shot all of this tribe whom he could find, and they became very scarce about his army. "The Emperor" says a leading Eastern journal, "was evidently led into the belief that he had an efficient army ready to move, and flattered himself that he had a greater force at his command than the Prussians had. Upon these two points turn all the disasters that have overwhelmed his empire. He should have moved into Germany fifteen days earlier than the Germans entered France but at the frontier it was found that there was no commissariat. In the time taken to organize one the opportunity for victory passed away from him, and by that error all was lost."

The French people, though now probably unable to continue the struggle, will not admit that they are defeated and subjugated. They will ascribe their disasters to treachery and betrayal, and will forever execrate those who by their utter incapacity have sunk their nation so low in the depths of humiliation. Some indication of this feeling is seen in the action of the French soldiers in shooting many of their officers at the time of the surrender. They felt that they had been betrayed and their indignation was uncontrollable.

The surrender of an hundred thousand men by one who claims to be the heir of the hero of Austerlitz and who bears the name of Napoleon! How great are the surprises of history! The universal exclamation of the French people in this hour of their humiliation as they contemplate the disasters to which incompetent leadership has brought them, will be that of the First Napoleon on learning that he had been betrayed by the capitulation of Paris. "That comes of trusting cowards and fools."

There is a paper published in Polk county which is continually assailing Senator Williams because he is committed to the doctrine of suffrage without distinction of color and which is declaring in every issue that no man committed to such a doctrine can ever be elected to the Senate from Oregon. Yet the same paper in every issue devotes a good deal of space to the advocacy of Judge Boise's claims and fitness for the Senate. We fear the writer has not read the recent letters of Judge Boise on negro suffrage. He is as firmly committed to the doctrine as Senator Williams is and, we are glad to believe, is quite as good a Radical.

The Orleans Family

Since the Napoleonic dynasty has fallen never to rise the alternatives for France seem to be a Republic or a king of the House of Orleans. The latter is generally regarded as the more probable. The branch of the House of Bourbon known as the Orleans Family, was represented on the throne of France by Louis Philippe from 1830 to 1848. His oldest son died in 1842 leaving two sons the elder of whom is now the head of the House. His full name is Louis Philip Albert, Count de Paris. He was born in 1838. For some years he has resided at Twickenham in England. His brother Robert Duc de Chartres was born in 1840. Four sons and one daughter of Louis Philippe are still living. The oldest of these is Louis, Duc de Nemours born in 1814. He married Princess Victoire daughter of the late Prince Ferdinand of Saxe Coburg and Gotha and has two sons the Count d'Eu Marshal of the Brazilian army, and the Duc d'Alencon, Captain of Spanish artillery and two daughters.

The third child of Louis Philippe is the Princess of Orleans born June 3 1817 and married in 1843 to August Prince of Saxe Coburg and Gotha and Duke of Saxe.

The Prince de Joinville Francis Charles and fourth child of Louis Philippe was born August 14 1818 and married a daughter of the late Pierre I Emperor of Brazil. They have two children a daughter as we have seen, married to the Duc de Chartres the second in direct line of the Orleans family and a son Pierre, Duc de Penthievre who is a Lieutenant in the French navy.

The Duc d'Aumale Henry the fifth son of Louis Philippe was born January 16 1822 and married November 25 1844 Caroline daughter of the late Leopold Prince of Salerne of Sicily.

The youngest son of the deceased Orleans King is Antoine, Duc de Montpensier born July 31, 1824 and married October 10 1846 to Louise a Spanish Princess sister of the late Queen Isabella II. He is a Captain General of the Spanish army and resides in Seville. Since the last revolution in Spain he has been prominently before the public being proposed for the vacant throne.

"Napoleon was so shocked by the slaughter of Wednesday and Thursday," so the dispatches say, that he insisted on a surrender, though the younger officers opposed it." The warlike Emperor thought, of course, that nobody was to be hurt and that war meant nothing more than pomp and pageantry and glorious display, with an occasional brilliant episode like that "baptism of fire," when "Louis and I" were at the front and the remarkable infant startled an admiring world by picking a bullet to keep.

"The bullet as a friend of the laborer" is the subject of some pointed remarks in the New York Herald. Referring to the fact that the late Labor Congress at Cincinnati was strangely exercised over the subject of Chinese labor, and that one delegate said "if the ballot does not stop the evil the bullet must," the Herald says: "The Chinese at Tientsin took the same view of European labor, and with the aid of the bullet effectually blotted out the evil in that part of the Flowery Kingdom."

As the late Emperor of the French is now out of a situation, he might come over to this country and obtain a partnership with Jeff Davis in the life insurance business. He was an admirer of Jeff in the palmy days of Jeff's prosperity and Jeff shouldn't throw off on him now. These two played out individuals should gravitate together by mutual attraction.

POLITICAL NOTES

It is generally understood that Wendell Phillips will accept the Temperance nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, as he also expects to be accepted as the candidate of the Labor Reform convention at Worcester, in September.

Forty counties in Missouri have elected delegates to the Republican State convention, and of these forty says the St Louis Tribune not over five are opposed to the nomination of McClurg for Governor. Seventeen are positively instructed for him and not a single county is instructed for any other candidate.

Governor Hoffman is about to call an extra session of the New York Legislature for the purpose of passing an act separating the State election from the Congressional election. This is done for the purpose of giving the city full swing in election frauds without interference from the United States Marshal.

A correspondent says: "I was in Greenville on election day, and saw ex President Johnson vote the Conservative ticket. It is a mistake to suppose his health is bad. He is in fine health and spirits. He is pressed to allow his name to be used for Congress but he has refused up to this time. It is believed that he could be easily elected."

In a letter just published in which he declares that he shall vote for the Republican nominees for State officers in South Carolina, ex Gov Jas L Orr says: "The colored race is devoted to the Republican party unalterably and will continue as long as the organization exists and such devotion is the natural and necessary result of its many kindnesses to them."

By a statement which has just been prepared at the Treasury Department, it appears that the expenses of the last fiscal year of President Buchanan's administration were at the rate of $2 01 per capita of population, while for the last fiscal year the first of President Grant's administration, deducting what properly belongs to war expenses, and reducing the amount to a gold basis, at the average premium for the year which is about 20, the expenses of the government have been $1 61 per capita estimating the population at 40 000 000.

The Raleigh, North Carolina Standard, says that an examination of the recent election returns must convince the leaders as well as the rank and file of the Republican party that a little more hard work would have resulted in a victory instead of a defeat. "We have lost some counties by bare majorities while others have gone by default entirely. The necessity of a thorough organization is apparent. Plans are on foot to effect it. By this time next year we can be able to mass our entire forces on e more for any conflict."

The Dominion has been fooled. There was much crowing in the Canadian newspapers about a supposed mistake on the part of the engineers of the United States Government as to the location of the St Clair Ship Canal. It was said that through some blunder the canal was constructed within Canadian territory, and that the United States Government had been expending $750 000 in improving the mud flats of the Dominion. At length however there is an official report on the subject from the U S Engineer in charge, Gen Cram, including a statement by the Chief of Engineers Gen Humphreys and referring also to the opinion of the latter's predecessor in office Gen Raynolds. It appears that there is a mistake, but that it is in the maps from which the Canadian newspapers derived their belief. The canal is wholly within United States territory. It is a pity about Canada. That callow province naturally expects the mother country or somebody else to scratch up the earth for her but is frequently disappointed. And now this public work which she hoped to obtain without any exertion of her own, is not hers after all. 'Twas ever thus.

At a spiritual circle in Des Moines, the following question was asked the medium: "What causes the most amusement in the spirit land?" "Reading our own obituary notices" was the prompt reply.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT. 3

Report that Bazaine has Surrendered

LONDON Sept. —It is reported that Bazaine with the entire forces in occupation of Metz surrendered at 4 P M yesterday to the investing army on receipt of the news of Napoleon's surrender.

The Prince Imperial

BRUSSELS Sept. —The Prince Imperial of France has arrived at Chimay twelve miles south east of Mons and has been lodged in the palace of Prince Chimay.

Another Bulletin from King William

LONDON Sept 3 —A special telegram from the King's headquarters at Vendres, near Sedan Friday says: The battle at Sedan commenced at 6 A M September 1st. Two Prussian corps were in position on the west of Sedan having got there by long forced marches to cut off the French retreat to Mezieres south of Sedan. There were the 1st Bavarian corps on the east across the Meuse, the 2d Bavarian corps and Saxons were on the northeast with the guards. After a tremendous battle the Prussians having completely surrounded Sedan and the Bavarians having entered the fortifications of Sedan, the Emperor capitulated at 5 15 P M. His letter to the King of Prussia said: "As I cannot die at the head of my army, I lay my sword at the feet of your Majesty." He left Sedan for the Prussian headquarters at Vendres at 1 A M on the 2d. McMahon's whole army of 100 000 men capitulated without condition. The Prussians had 240 000 men engaged or in reserve, the French 120 000.

News from Paris—The Situation there.

LONDON, Sept 3 —Paris telegrams report the utmost agitation and excitement there. The people are gloomy and depressed as the last hope of the Napoleon dynasty has faded away. Trochu daily grows stronger in the confidence and sympathies of the people. The committee of defence is still working steadily for obstinate resistance although the general opinion is that Paris will not suffer a seige.

Rumors are current that a Republic is proclaimed. Gen Trochu is rumored as the probable President.

A Sedan dispatch, via Bouillon, Sept. 2d midnight says: The die is cast, so far as McMahon's fine army and the fortunes of the Empire are concerned. All is over with France. McMahon is seriously wounded. Roads are terrible. The French left everything, flying in every direction throwing away arms. The Prussians pressed resolutely forward, bent on cutting off the retreat toward Belgium. Prussians used the bayonet with dreadful effect. It is said the Emperor will be sent under strong escort to Madgeburg, but his final destination is a secret.

Enthusiasm at Berlin

Berlin dispatches say the enthusiasm of the people upon reception of the news of the great victory was absolutely indescribable.

Dispatch to the New York Sun.

GEDDONE Belgium, Sept. 2 —I have just arrived from the left wing of the French army. Yesterday was the third day of the battle. It began in the morning at Douzey near Sedan. The left wing was badly defeated, for at least one corps was obliged to cross the frontier at Sugny. It re entered at Bouillon. This is a violation of Belgian neutrality. The French cavalry, as far as I can judge, is cut to pieces. The artillery has also been badly handled.

Further Advices from Paris—Rejoicing in London.

LONDON Sept 3 —From Paris come accounts of the poverty of the Parisians. They are preparing for famine by expelling all foreigners not possessed of means for their support. The poor French are retained, if able bodied, for military service, if not, they are sent to the country. The fortifications are completed. Gen. Trochu is virtually Dictator. My informant (Paris, 2d Sept.) says to day is the last day of grace.

London is wild with delight over the Prussian triumphs. The streets for hours were filled with excited crowds of Englishmen, congratulating each other as if there had been an English victory. Sympathy with Prussia was never so strongly manifested.

The Pall Mall Gazette says the news may be regarded as final.

Warlike Preparations Continue in France — Napoleon's Incapacity and Cowardice

PARIS Sept 3 —The Moniteur announces that Alsace is enrolling enmasse in the army and at Lyons a large body of Sharp-shooters have started for the frontier. In the south of France volunteering is general throughout the country. The same sentiment is expressed that peace is impossible while a single Prussian stands on French soil.

NEW YORK, Sept 3 —A London special to the World says great excitement exists there. It was not known that Napoleon was with the Army until after the surrender. Gen Wimpffen, who surrendered the French army, is a cousin of the Prussian General of the same name. It is stated that Napoleon insisted upon surrender against the protests of younger officers as he was so shocked by the fearful slaughter of Wednesday and Thursday.

It is believed that the residence of the Elector of Hesse Cassel will be assigned to Napoleon. Nothing is received at London from Paris, and nothing is known there publicly of Napoleon's surrender.

It is stated that the King of Prussia is willing to abandon his indemnity claims, provided he secures Alsace and Lorraine. It is understood that Austria and Russia oppose this, while England favors it.

Financial Statement.

WASHINGTON, Sept 3 —Statement of the public debt shows a coin balance in the treasury of $99 768 335. Gold certificates $27,124 820. Currency balance, $37 615 824.

WAR MISCELLANY

An English firm lately received an order for 20 000 nosebags for the horses in the French army.

The actors of almost all the Berlin theaters have volunteered for the war almost to a man. Even many actresses accompany the army as vivandieres.

The King of Prussia has received one hundred and eight congratulatory dispatches, since the breaking out of the war, from Germans living in foreign countries.

Disturbances occur nightly in English theatres when the orchestra performs the Marseillaise. It is regularly hissed by one portion of the audience and then applauded by others.

Enthusiastic Prussians are contributing to the national treasury the large gold medals with the bust of the French Emperor, which were awarded as prizes at the Industrial Exhibition held at Paris in 1867, and which are valued at $600 apiece.

La Liberte writes that the German quarters of Paris have suffered severely from the emigration of Germans from the city. Particularly shop keepers and coffee houses suffer severely and many have had to close from a complete lack of custom.

A Paris banker has received from a Berlin banker a remittance of £4 000, and a letter thus worded: "The other £4 000 will be due next month. I shall bring it with our troops myself." He received as good as he sent in this reply: "I will endeavor to ameliorate your captivity by all the means in my power."

The English are at their old blockade running tricks. An English vessel laden with articles contraband of war destined for Prussia has been captured in the English channel and it is likely that this attempt at blockade running will be followed by others. Your genuine Englishman never neglecting an opportunity to add to his gains legitimate or otherwise.

A Bible Association at 23 Finsbury Circus London announced July 23d that they had furnished the French troops leaving Paris with copies of the Gospels and proposed to follow the French army with their Bible carriage. They have made arrangements to do the same with the Prussian army and hope to distribute half a million copies at a cost of £2 000.

Marshal Leboeuf sent for the two officers of the Baden army who were taken prisoners in the skirmish at Niederbronn, and an hour afterward they were seen to return from his dinner table—each with a lady on his arm, one being the wife of the Marshal. The French officers thought this was carrying courtesy a little too far. It is said that one of the captured captains is very wealthy.

The builder of a church now in course of erection in England when the toast of his health was given rather energetically replied that "he was more fitted for the scaffold than for public speaking."

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 4 —Conductor Quinn of the Market Street Railroad while going into the Company's office near the corner of Market and Montgomery this evening was knocked down and run over by a reckless horseman and seriously injured.

There is quite a fleet of vessels coming in this evening. Among those arrived or telegraphed are the steamer California from Portland, bark ... from ... ship ... 191 days from ... Half ... from Newcastle with coal, ship ... from New York. Several others, their names not ascertained.

Immense preparations are being made for the excursion of the Engineers of March and Friday.

The Second Brigade N G C will parade to morrow Wednesday to receive General Sherman.

A card signed by three Germans having been issued recommending their countrymen not to attach to the Democratic ticket another German meeting of taxpayers has been called for to morrow evening. From present appearances the Germans will go to the taxpayers ticket as four though there may be considerable scattering on Tax Collector and some on Chief of Police.

It is rumored that one Supervisor at least will be arrested on an indictment to morrow.

The whereabouts of Thomas Mooney not yet being stated the Directors of California Building and Savings Company say it will make no difference to the public where he is as the bank is all right in any event.

H A Cobb Jr Adjutant on the staff of Major General Cobb was presented with an elegant sword, sash and belt by his friends on board the steamer ... last night.

Crowds have been gathering for hours around the telegraph and newspaper offices waiting to hear the news from Europe. The French generally admit that the report of the surrender of the Emperor is probably correct but their sympathizers scout the idea as utterly absurd.

Last night a party of Germans meeting casually commenced discussing the news and finally Leander Landeberger passed around the hat for the Sanitary Fund collecting some $300. In passing the hat around he dropped an ordinary pearl sleeve button out of his cuff into the hat and on its being found it was put up at auction and knocked down to Charles A Kohler for $10 5 and so sold again and again until it had realized over $400.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

Fire at Colusa.

COLUSA Sept 4 —A wooden building connected with Henry Schuyler's large brewery was entirely destroyed by fire last evening. Loss $5 000, partially insured.

From Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES Sept 3 —At Bakersfield the body of a man was found lassoed and dragged 300 yards from the road. He had been dead some two or three weeks and could not be identified. A posse of men procured a warrant against Sepulveda a desperado and horse thief, who is supposed to be the murderer.

Stockton Dispatch

STOCKTON Sept 4 —A few days since a little girl daughter of Mr McMurray, residing on the lower San road was severely scalded by falling over a tub of hot water on her body.

The man so severely injured at San Joaquin City yesterday was named Shultz not Mengers as reported. He was injured by falling from a wagon loaded with wood. One heavy stick fell on his leg literally tearing the flesh from the bone from the knee nearly to the ankle. In addition to these injuries he is supposed to be fatally hurt in the lungs.

NEVADA

VIRGINIA CITY Sept 4 —In the U S District Court the late order adjudicating the Lady Bryan Mining Co was vacated and set aside. A petition of involuntary bankruptcy was immediately filed by one of the creditors against the corporation.

Fire at Corvallis

CORVALLIS Sept 4 —This morning about two o'clock the residence of Mr J F Hamilton was discovered in flames. The fire had made such rapid headway that the family barely escaped. But little of the contents of the house were saved. Loss about $4,000, insured in the Phœnix for $2 000.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The following shipments of treasure from Victoria to San Francisco were made by the last steamer: Wells, Fargo & Co $12 9 8 10. Bank of British Columbia $92 029 85. Bank of British North America, $53 455 04. total $158 453 02.

The coal mines the copper mines the silver mines, the iron mines and the fisheries on the sea coast of the mainland are every day attracting more interest, and with an influx of population and capital, these various interests will soon be developed and become a great source of wealth to the country.

Says the Victoria Colonist: Mr Stephen Barker, a young artist of considerable merit, is engaged at his studio on Fort street in painting a magnificent panorama of California, Oregon and British Columbia scenery. Seven views are already painted and when the number of views has reached twenty five a public exhibition will be held.

During a storm a few days ago at Victoria the lightning entered the Western Union Telegraph Company's office on Yates street, passed through the instrument along the wire leading to the battery (which is located in the yard) knocked off a piece of platinum from the standard and thence into the ground leaving a hole 11 inches deep and 4 wide. The instrument was not damaged but portions of the wire appear as if they had been subjected for some time to the action of a hot fire.

A man named Cook performed at Victoria a feat of navigation in a tub drawn by four geese. The geese were yoked and harnessed to a board circular in shape about four feet in length and two and a half in width—in fact four holes each sufficiently large to admit a goose had been cut in the board and in these holes the geese sat and swam and swam and swam ye bold navigator meanwhile holding a paddle in each hand and with it directing his steeds in the way they should go.

A smart young lawyer's clerk hearing it stated by a lecturer that "man is merely a machine" remarked: "I suppose that an attorney is a suing machine."

Disease and pills when they enter a man's body are like two lawyers when they undertake to settle his affairs—they compromise the matter by laying out the patient.

One of our most skillful military citizens has so much confidence in himself that he says he can drill a rock.

A cute American naturalist has observed that the bee as it dies from the hive is oddly enough going to hum.

Bierstadt the artist is said to be engaged in painting a magnificent waterfall he once saw—on Broadway.

CITY.

CITY CHARTER MEETING AT EAST PORTLAND.—The meeting at East Portland to consider the question of asking the Legislature for a city charter resulted in the adoption of the proposition. The charter as framed, of which we read provides that the boundaries of the city shall extend from the Wallamet river to the north line of the Wheeler land claim, thence eastern line of the donation of Tibbetts and south to a direct line to the center of the Wallamet river, thence west to the place of beginning, thence north to Wheeler's and Stephens' land taking in all of Wheeler's, of Tibbetts and Murray's claims and a portion of the Stephens claim. The following is a synopsis of the further provisions. The government of the city of East Portland is vested in a Board of Trustees consisting of five persons who are elected for the term of one year. The Recorder, Treasurer and Assessor shall be elected by the qualified electors of the corporation. The Attorney, Surveyor and Street Commissioner shall be appointed by the Board of Trustees. All city elections shall be by ballot. The powers of the Board of Trustees are: To make by laws and ordinances, to assess levy and collect taxes not to exceed one half of one per cent per annum, to prevent and remove nuisances, to license and tax auctioneers, taverns, etc, to provide the city with good water, to provide for lighting the city streets, to regulate the storage of gunpowder and other combustibles, to provide for the prevention and extinguishment of fires, to provide and maintain day and night police, to remove obstructions from the public highways, streets etc., to appropriate money for city expenditures, to prevent and restrain riots, etc, to impose and collect fines, to provide for prevention and removal of obstructions in the Wallamet river within the limits of the city, to license and collect harbor dues, to license and tax wharfingers, to provide for establishment of market houses, to improve streets and regulate the erection of wharves. General elections will take place on the third Monday in June of each year.

FIRE—AN UNDOUBTED ACT OF INCENDIARISM.—About half past eight o'clock last evening a small stable in the rear of Mr Risley (the grocer) at the corner of Morrison and Seventh streets, was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was given and the engines were on hand in an almost incredibly short time but too late to save the stable. It had in it about half a ton of loose hay, which made the fire quick almost as a flash. Mr Risley saved his horse which was in the stable, though not till the animal was somewhat scorched. The loss, beyond the hay, a few bushels of oats, and a harness is not great, as the stable was only a small and cheap structure. Mr Risley was out in the rear yard to see if everything was all right, only a few minutes before the fire broke out. The family living next door had just retired. Mr Thomas who also lives in the same block and near the stable, states that he and his wife being in their back room saw the blaze flash up and that just then a man jumped over the fence from the stable and ran through his (Mr Thomas') door yard out into Park street. This was undoubtedly the man who did the act of firing the stable. It is to be hoped that the description of him, meagre as it is, may yet lead to his arrest and conviction. We are requested to state that No 1's should have the credit of throwing the first water.

ACCIDENTS.—On Saturday, a horse attached to a bakery wagon got frightened at the wheel striking an old sheet iron pipe, and running a short distance, threw the driver out violently upon the ground. The driver was badly hurt. The neighbors seeing the accident, rendered what assistance they could, and sent for a physician. When the latter arrived the man was lifted into a wagon and taken home. Saturday afternoon a colored boy who was riding a horse on Second street, was thrown from the animal's back, and received injuries of a serious character.

AMUSEMENTS.—The circus had a fair audience at the last performance Saturday evening. It will put in the time between now and the State Fair among the interior towns, and will arrive at Salem just before the fair.

The benefit Saturday evening, to the Apollo Band was well attended and the entertainment given was altogether satisfactory. It is understood that the company will go to Salem next week, and it is therefore probable that they will not again appear at Oro Fino till after the State Fair.

THEATRICALS AT SALEM.—Mr Bates has gone to Salem to superintend the fitting up of the Wigwam as a theater to be used during the session of the Legislature. It is reported that Mr Ned. F Bird and a dramatic company will play at Reed's Opera House during the State Fair, and perhaps longer. What with these two places of amusement and the Legislature, Salem is likely to have as much theatricals as her people can well manage.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.—This edifice was formally dedicated yesterday to the service of God. The vast auditorium—the largest in the city was densely crowded at both morning and evening services. We are informed that together with the contributions from the outside, the collections taken up yesterday and last evening, were sufficient to clear off all the indebtedness of the building association.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL.—The St. Charles Hotel (M. Keith, Manager) corner of Front and Morrison streets has been open about a month and within that time has done a splendid business. By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that no expense has been spared to make this the finest hotel on the upper Pacific coast.

RIVER STEAMERS.—The Rescue, since she was repaired, draws six inches less of water than before. Her hull is four feet wider than before making altogether a new model. She will be out Wednesday for a trial trip. The Cascade will be hauled out on the ways at the boneyard this week for a thorough overhauling.

BOOK CANVASSERS.—Canvassers are now in the city taking subscriptions for the "Life of Daniel Webster," by George Ticknor Curtis, "The Court Circles of the Republic or the Beauties and Celebrities of the Nation," by Mrs E F Ellet and "The Life of George Peabody," by Phebe A Hanaford.

ARRIVAL OF JIM FISKE, JR.—Officer Hudson Saturday night found Jim Fiske, Jr in a state of glorious intoxication. Upon learning the name of the distinguished individual the officer gave him the freedom of the city jail, for the night. Jim was looking for the place where the woodbine twineth.

POOR SOLDIER.—A soldier's overcoat was found the other evening under a wharf with a piece of paper attached on which was written in pencil: "Being out of work friends money and home I am compelled to sleep out and this coat is all I have to keep myself warm. Please don't take it."

TEN DAYS IN JAIL FOR WIFE BEATING.—James Connelly, the man who beat his wife's head with a club the other evening was before the Recorder on Saturday and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars or in default to be confined ten days in jail.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS.—To day the passenger trains on the Oregon and California railroad will commence running—two trips a day—between East Portland and Waconda connecting at that place with the stages. The era of railroad travel is now opened in Oregon.

CONTINUED WAR EXCITEMENT.—There was a great throng of people around our bulletin board for hours yesterday eagerly reading and discussing the war news. The excitement was quite as high as upon the receipt of the news of the Emperor's surrender.

A LOCAL MUSICAL COMPOSER.—A piece of music played by the Apollo Band at their benefit Saturday evening was composed by a young gentleman of this city named John Rees. Mr Sedlak an old music teacher arranged the piece for the band.

CORRECTION.—The ice cream festival to be given by the colored ladies for the benefit of Rev J Lodge the pastor of the M E Zion Church will be held on Thursday evening instead of Tuesday evening as we had it on Saturday morning.

AUCTION SALE OF PARK LOTS.—On Thursday Sept 15th, Russell & Ferry will sell at auction sixteen lots—the lots recently offered the city for Park purposes. The terms are easy and the lots are desirably located.

SCHOOLS.—St Helen's Hall will open on Monday the 5th and the Bishop Scott Grammar School on Tuesday the 6th.

The Daily Oregonian.

[illegible] MORNING, SEPTEMBER 5, 1870.

[illegible] CHARTER MEETING AT EAST PORTLAND.—The meeting at East Portland to consider the [illegible] of asking the Legislature for a city charter [illegible] resulted in the adoption of the proposition. [illegible] charter, a form of which was read, provides [illegible] the boundaries of the city shall extend from [illegible] of the Wallamet river to the north-[illegible] corner of the Wheeler land claim, thence [illegible] direct line to a point on Tibbetts' land [illegible]; thence west to the center of the Wallamet [illegible]; thence north to the place of beginning, [illegible] in all of Wheeler's and Stephens' land [illegible] a portion of Tibbetts' and Murray's. [illegible] following is a synopsis of its further provisions: [illegible] government of the city of East Portland [illegible] vested in a Board of Trustees consisting [illegible] who are elected for the term of [illegible]. The Recorder, Treasurer and Assessor [illegible] by the qualified electors of the [illegible]. The Attorney, Surveyor and Street [illegible], shall be appointed by the Board [illegible]. All city elections shall be by ballot. [illegible] powers of the Board of Trustees are: To [illegible] laws and ordinances; to assess, levy and [illegible] taxes, not to exceed one half of one per [illegible] per annum; to prevent and remove nuis-[illegible] license and tax auctioneers, taverns, [illegible] to provide the city with good water; to pro-[illegible] lighting the city streets; to regulate the [illegible] of gunpowder and other combustibles; to [illegible] for the protection and extinguishment of [illegible] to provide and maintain day and night po-[illegible] remove obstructions from the public high-[illegible] streets, etc.; to appropriate money for [illegible]; to prevent and restrain riots, [illegible] and collect fines; to provide [illegible] and removal of obstructions in the [illegible] river within the limits of the city; to [illegible] collect harbor dues; to license and tax [illegible]; to provide for establishment of [illegible]; to improve streets and regulate [illegible] of wharves. General elections will [illegible] on the third Monday in June of each [illegible]

[illegible] ACT OF INCENDIARISM.—[illegible] eight o'clock last evening, a small [illegible] rear of Mr. Risley (the grocer), at [illegible] and Seventh streets, was [illegible] on fire. An alarm was given [illegible] were on hand in an almost in-[illegible] time; but too late to save the sta-[illegible] but about half a ton of loose hay, [illegible] quick almost as a flash. Mr. [illegible] his horse which was in the stable, [illegible] the animal was somewhat scorched. [illegible] all the hay, a few bushels of oats, [illegible] not great, as the stable was only [illegible] structure. Mr. Risley was out [illegible] to see if everything was all right, [illegible] before the fire broke out. The [illegible] door had just retired. Mr. [illegible] lives in the same block and near [illegible] that he and his wife being in [illegible] saw the blaze flash up and that [illegible] jumped over the fence from the [illegible] through his (Mr. Thomas') door [illegible] street. This was undoubtedly [illegible] the act of firing the stable. It [illegible] that the description of him, meagre [illegible] lead to his arrest and conviction. [illegible] to state that No. 1's should have [illegible] throwing the first water.

[illegible]—On Saturday, a horse attached to [illegible] frightened at the wheel strik-[illegible] pipe, and running a short [illegible] the driver out violently upon the [illegible] was badly hurt. The neigh-[illegible], rendered what assistance [illegible] for a physician. When the [illegible] man was lifted into a wagon [illegible] Saturday afternoon a colored [illegible] a horse on Second street, was [illegible] animal's back, and received in-[illegible] character.

[illegible] had a fair audience [illegible] Saturday evening. It [illegible] between now and the State [illegible] towns, and will arrive at [illegible] the fair.

[illegible] Saturday evening, to the Apollo [illegible] attended and the entertainment [illegible] satisfactory. It is under-[illegible] company will go to Salem next [illegible] probable that they will [illegible] at Oro Fino till after the State [illegible]

[illegible] AT SALEM.—Mr. Bates has gone [illegible] the fitting up of the [illegible] to be used during the ses-[illegible] Legislature. It is reported that Mr. [illegible] dramatic company will play [illegible] during the State Fair, and [illegible] what with these two places of [illegible] Legislature, Salem is likely [illegible] as her people can [illegible]

[illegible]—This edifice was [illegible] day to the service of [illegible] the largest in the [illegible] at both morning and [illegible] We are informed that together [illegible] from the outside, the col-[illegible] and last evening, [illegible] all the indebtedness of [illegible]

[illegible] HOTEL.—The St. Charles Hotel [illegible] corner of Front and Mor-[illegible] open about a month and [illegible] a splendid business. [illegible] advertising columns it will be [illegible] has been spared to make [illegible] on the upper Pacific coast.

[illegible] The Rescue, since she was [illegible] six inches less of water than be-[illegible] four feet wider than before, [illegible] a new model. She will be out [illegible] trial trip. The Cascade will be [illegible] days at the boneyard this week [illegible] rebuilding.

[illegible]—Canvassers are now in [illegible] subscriptions for the "Life of [illegible]" by George Ticknor Curtis; [illegible] of the Republic, or the Beau-[illegible] of the Nation," by Mrs. E. [illegible] "The Life of George Peabody," by [illegible]

[illegible] JIM FISKE, JR.—Officer Hudson [illegible] found Jim Fiske, Jr. in a state of [illegible]. Upon learning the name [illegible] individual the officer gave [illegible] of the city" jail, for the night, [illegible] for the place where the woodbine [illegible]

[illegible] A soldier's overcoat was found [illegible] under a wharf, with a piece of [illegible] on which was written in pencil: [illegible] friends, money and home, I [illegible] out, and this coat is all I [illegible] warm. Please don't take it."

[illegible] IN JAIL FOR WIFE BEATING.—[illegible], the man who beat his wife [illegible] the other evening, was before [illegible] on Saturday and was sentenced to [illegible] twenty dollars, or in default, to be [illegible] days in jail.

[illegible] THE CARS.—To-day the passen-[illegible] the Oregon and California railroad, [illegible] running—two trips a day—be-[illegible] Portland and Waconda, connecting at [illegible] the stages. The era of railroad [illegible] opened in Oregon.

[illegible] WAR EXCITEMENT.—There was a [illegible] of people around our bulletin board [illegible] yesterday, eagerly reading and discuss-[illegible] news. The excitement was quite as [illegible] the receipt of the news of the Em-[illegible] surrender.

A LOCAL MUSICAL COMPOSER.—A piece of [illegible] played by the Apollo Band at their benefit [illegible] evening, was composed by a young gen-[illegible] of this city, named John Ross. Mr. Sed-[illegible] music teacher, arranged the piece for [illegible] band.

BOARD OF DELEGATES.

MONTHLY MEETING—EXEMPT CERTIFICATES GRANTED—RESIGNATION OF THE SECRETARY—AMENDMENT TO FIRE DEPARTMENT ACT ASKED FOR.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Fire Delegates was held Saturday night, A. B. Hallock, President of the Board, in the chair. Present—Messrs. Lyons, Hardenburgh, Albright, Mulligan, Ball, Bennett and Moffett.

Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

Exempt certificates were granted to J. B. Miller and M. Moskowitz.

Mr. Lyons offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That there be added to the standing committees, a Committee on Cemetery. It shall be the duty of said Committee to grant permits to the different companies to inter deceased members within the firemen's plot; to report annually the state and condition of the cemetery, the number of firemen buried therein during their term, and to what companies they were attached.

The applications of Messrs. Bornheim, Ferrell, Neibur, Phillips, Hendrie and Heldburg, for exempt certificates, were referred to the Committee on Certificates.

A communication from W. A. Holbrook, Secretary of Multnomah Engine No. 2, stating that the resignation of B. L. Norden as President of said company, and also as member of the Board of Delegates, had been accepted by the company, was read and placed on file.

The bill of L. Kiernan, for services rendered in taking care of Firemen's Plot, was referred to a select committee consisting of Messrs. Ball, Lyons and Moffett.

The Committee on Certificates submitted a report recommending that an exempt certificate be issued to F. Neibur.

The resignation of E. F. Albright, as Secretary of the Board, was read, and, on motion, laid over until the next meeting.

Mr. Lyons submitted the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives to the Legislature, be, and are hereby, respectfully requested to use their influence to have Article 7, Section 1 of the act to regulate the Fire Department of Portland amended by striking out the word "consecutive," so that it will read "seven years."

The Secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the above resolution to each of the Senators and Representatives from Multnomah county.

On motion the Board adjourned.

WEATHER RECORD.—Mr. Wilson, Tidal Observer at Astoria, sends us the following meteorological observations for August:

Relative humidity or fraction of saturative mean, 7-10.

Barometer reduced to 32° Fahrenheit, mean 29.927.

ASTORIA ITEMS.—From our regular correspondent.—Astoria, Sept. 2, 1870.—The North German bark Hertha was towed to sea last Tuesday.

A railroad surveying party arrived here last Wednesday evening and commenced work Thursday morning. This evening they were five miles from town. There is considerable railroad talk here at present.

There are a few improvements still going on in town.

The weather has been very warm for a few days past.

STILL CONTINUED.—We continue to hear of housebreakings in various parts of the city. The sneak thieves are about as numerous as ever and ply their vocations with impunity.

NEW POSTOFFICE.—A postoffice is to be established at Wapato. There used to be one there some years ago but it was discontinued.

CALIFORNIA.

For the past week ending at noon, August 27th, the total number of deaths in San Francisco was seventy-three; of these fifty died in the City Wards, the remainder in the public and private hospitals. There were three deaths from casualties, and one suicide; twelve deaths resulting from consumption, one from a gunshot wound, and one from old age.

In Sacramento county according to the Folsom Telegraph, commencing at the splendid orchard of Dwight Hollister on the Sacramento river, can be seen, as it is in fact, one continuous orchard, extending along the east bank of the river, for seven miles in length. The peach is the principal fruit and arrives at greater perfection than in any other portion of the State.

August 26th the bark Dreadnaught arrived at San Francisco with a cargo of sandstone from Vancouver's Island, for the new Mint. All the stone had been used up and work had been temporarily suspended at the Mint stone yard at Fifth and Mission. Active operations will soon be resumed. The present cargo amounts to 325 tons. The supply of granite for the completion of the basement has also been insufficient to meet the demand.

At a late Democratic ratification meeting in San Francisco while a politician named Roach was speaking, and while his supporters on the platform were applauding vehemently, the flooring and joists—"one entire half of the platform"—gave way, precipitating three reporters, two kerosene oil lamps, one table, three chairs, and a dozen Democrats into the abyss, and leaving a lamp post round which the platform had been built, standing up amid the ruins, like a "point of exclamation."

Contrary to general expectation, says the San Francisco Scientific Press, and to the oft refuted observations of interested parties, some of whom predicted a falling off of 2,000,000 centals, the receipts from the wheat crop of the present year will be fully equal to that of the last. The small advance in the price and the superior character of the grain will more than make amends for the very small, if any diminution in, quantity produced. The wheat generally has been freer from cheat, oats, etc., than during any previous year. More care has also been taken in cleaning wheat for market.

A dispatch from San Jose, August 27th, relates the following horrible occurrence: News has just reached this place that three men were killed and terribly mangled on Friday last by a grizzly. It appears that the men, whose names we are unable to obtain, were keeping a dairy on San Benito creek, near Hollister. On Friday morning one of the milch cows failing to make her appearance with the rest of the herd caused two of the men to start in search of her. After traveling up the creek a short distance, they saw the cow lying in the bushes, and not expecting any danger advanced with the intention of driving her home. When they got within a few feet of the cow they saw a grizzly and immediately attempted to escape, but were soon overtaken by bruin. He leaped upon the nearest one, crushing him to the ground, and completely disemboweled him. He then seized the other by the head, severing it entirely from the body. The remaining man, thinking that he would go and assist his partners in the search, started after them and soon discovered the cow, and on attempting to approach her the bear sprung upon him, killing him instantly.

THE great railroad era has dawned upon this State. The locomotive whistle is already heard in our midst. The North Pacific railroad have a regiment of engineers and surveyors in the field, and will soon have thousands of men constructing the road. Hundreds of new settlers are arriving every month to fill up our State and develop her resources. But it matters not how many come, KOHN & FISHEL will be ready for them with all kinds of Clothing and Staple goods. They are constantly receiving fresh supplies by every steamer, so their stock cannot be exhausted. Call and see them at their old stand on Front street.

If you wish to buy or rent Farms or City Property call on PARRISH & ATKINSON, Corner of Front and Alder Sts., Portland, Oregon. s2tf

NO HUMBUG.—We do not wish to inform you, reader, that Dr. Wonderful, or any other man, has discovered a remedy that cures all diseases of mind, body or estate, and is designed to make our sublunary sphere a blissful Paradise, to which Heaven itself shall be but a side show, but we do wish to inform you that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has cured thousands of cases of catarrh in its worst forms and stages, and the proprietor will pay $500 for a case of this loathsome disease that he cannot cure. It may be procured by mail for sixty cents, by addressing R. V. Pierce, M. D., 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. A pamphlet free. Sold by druggists. Look out for men representing themselves as Dr. Sage: Dr. Pierce, whose private Government Revenue Stamp is on every package of the Genuine, is the only man living who can manufacture the Original Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

OREGON.

Arrangements have been made at Salem to run two stages daily from that place to the present railroad terminus at Waconda.

J. Allphin and wife have been arrested at Salem for alledged fraud. It is asserted that they sold a piece of land to two different parties.

Mr. James Nixon, a farmer near Harrisburg, in Linn county, while working in the harvest field on Saturday, suddenly fell to the ground, and before medical aid could reach him life was extinct. He leaves a wife and several children.

The Albany Democrat says a party of hunters from that place last week killed sixty-nine deer and two bears in the mountains above lower Soda Springs. Deer are said to be more numerous in that region than for a number of years past.

In the County Judge contest in Linn county the opinion of Judge Boise is adverse to Mr. Whitney, and it is adjudged that the present incumbent, Judge Johns, is entitled to hold the office for two years longer. Mr. Whitney has appealed to the Supreme Court.

The Albany Democrat gets off the following slanderous anecdote: Upton, of the Mercury went with us to visit the Penitentiary, and as he had striped pants on we heard one of the convicts inquire of another, "how long he thought that snolly gostin' big 'un was in for!" Upton says "its an abolition lie!"

Brigham Young doesn't agree with his mother-in-law, and she frequently attacks him in platoons.

SPIRITUAL GROVE MEETING—At Butteville, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9th, 10th and 11th. Good speakers have been secured for the occasion. The P. T. boats will carry passengers to and fro for half price. They will also dispatch an extra boat on Sunday for the benefit of those wishing to go on that day.

False Pretenses.

The vast and continually increasing sales of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have provoked the envy of a certain class of dealers in various parts of the country, who are trying to substitute their utterly worthless nostrums for the most popular proprietary medicine in the world. These imposters hope by their false statements to obtain from the millions who patronize the great American Tonic, a sufficient number of customers to make their speculations upon the health of their neighbors profitable. As the demand for Hostetter's Bitters is now so large and urgent as to tax to their fullest extent the facilities of its manufacture, these petty attempts to wring in the merest trash by false representations, are of little consequence to its proprietors. They are, however, a serious evil to the victimized. If, for example, at this season, when a real invigorant is greatly needed, the sufferer from general debility, indigestion, biliousness or nervous weakness, is coaxed into using a wishy-washy compound without any medicinal virtue, instead of the sovereign specific in which the rarest tonic and alterative vegetable elements are scientifically combined, it is obvious that he will rue the day when he allowed himself to be thus deluded. It is the interest of parties who have been or may be influenced by the persuasion of plausible charlatans, that this article is published. With the light of twenty years experience to guide him, why should the invalid take a leap in dark.

This Remedy does not simply relieve for a short time, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head" and Catarrhal Headache are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now
SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.
Price 50 cents. Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 60 cents, or four packages for two dollars. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. "Quite Run Down."—How often is it is expression used by persons whose bodies and minds are exhausted by the toil and anxieties of business life. Mere stimulants do no good in such cases. Their first effect is transient. The re-action disastrous. In TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, the true remedy for this breaking down of the physical energies, and the animal spirit is provided. It renovates and refreshes the assimilating organs and the nerves, while it carries off without violence or pain, all the impurities which clog the bowels and vitiate the blood. In indigestion, biliousness, constipation, nervous weakness and hypochondriasis it has no rival, except the water of the Seltzer Spring itself, of which it is the exact and perfect equivalent.

Mark Twain on Political Economy

In the Sept [illegible] Mark Twain has an essay on Political Economy which is as original [illegible] it is startling [illegible] We give it as follows:

Political economy is the basis of all good government. The wisest men of all ages have brought to bear upon [illegible] the—

[Here I was interrupted and informed that a stranger wished to see me [illegible] I went and confronted him [illegible] his business, struggling all the time to keep a tight rein on my seething political ideas and not to let them break away from me or get tangled in their harness. And privately I wished the stranger was in the bottom of the canal with a cargo of wheat on top of him. I was all in a fever, but he was cool. He said he was sorry to disturb me, but as he was passing he noticed that I needed some lightning rods. I said "Yes, yes, go on, what about it?" He said there was nothing about it in particular [illegible] he would like to put them up for me. I am new to housekeeping; have been used to hotels and boarding houses all my life. [illegible] experience I try to appear [illegible] to be an old housekeeper; consequently I said in an off-hand way that I had been intending for some time to have six or eight lightning rods put up, but—— The stranger started and looked inquiringly at me, but I was serene. I thought if I chanced to make any mistakes he would not catch me by my countenance. He said he would rather have my custom than any man's in town. I said all right, and started off to wrestle with my great subject again, when he called me back and said it would be necessary to know exactly how many "points" I wanted put up, what parts of the house I wanted them on, and what quality of rod I preferred. It was close quarters for a man not used to the exigencies of housekeeping, but I went through creditably, and he probably never suspected that I was a novice. I told him to put up eight "points," and put them all on the roof, and use the best quality of rod. He said he could furnish the "plain" article at twenty cents a foot; "copper'd," twenty-five cents; "zinc-plated spiral twist," at 30 cents, that would stop a streak of lightning any time, no matter where it was bound, and "render its errand harmless and its further progress apocryphal." I said apocryphal was no slouch of a word, emanating from the source it did, but philology aside, I liked the spiral twist, and would take that brand. Then he said he could make two hundred and fifty feet answer, but to do it right and make the best job in town of it, and attract the admiration of the just and unjust alike, and compel all parties to say they never saw a more symmetrical and hypothetical display of lightning rods since they were born, he supposed he really couldn't get along without four hundred, though he was not vindictive, and trusted he was willing to try. I said go ahead and use four hundred, and make any kind of a job he pleased out of it, but let me go back to my work. So I am rid of him at last, and now, after half an hour spent in getting my train of political economy thoughts coupled together again, I am ready to go on once more.]

richest treasures of their genius, their experience of life, and their learning. The great lights of commercial jurisprudence, international confraternity and biological deviation of all ages, civilizations, and all nationalities, from Zoroaster down to Horace Greeley, have [Here I was interrupted again and required to go down and confer further with that lightning-rod man. I hurried off, boiling and surging with prodigious thoughts wombed in words of such majesty that each one of them was in itself a straggling procession of syllables that might be fifteen minutes passing a given point, and once more I confronted him—he so calm and sweet, I so hot and frenzied. He was standing in the contemplative attitude of the Colossus of Rhodes, with one foot on my infant tuberose and the other among my pansies, his hand on his hips, his hat-brim tilted forward, one eye shut and the other gazing critically and admiringly in the direction of my principal chimney. He said now there was a state of things to make a man glad to be alive; and added, "I leave it to you if you ever saw anything more deliriously picturesque than eight lightning rods on one chimney?" I said I had no present recollection of anything that transcended it. He said that in his opinion nothing on this earth but Niagara Falls was superior to it in the way of natural scenery. All that was needed now, he verily believed, to make my house a perfect balm to the eye, was to kind of touch up the other chimneys a little and thus add to the generous coup d'œil a soothing uniformity of achievement which would allay the excitement naturally consequent upon the first coup d'état. I asked him if he learned to talk out of a book, and if I could borrow it anywhere. He smiled pleasantly and said that his manner of speaking was not taught in books, and that nothing but familiarity with lightning could enable a man to handle his conversational style with impunity. He then figured up an estimate, and said that about eight more rods scattered about my roof would about fix me right, and he guessed five hundred feet of stuff would do it; and added that the first eight had got a little the start of him, so to speak, and used up a mere trifle of material more than he had calculated on—a hundred feet or along there. I said I was in a dreadful hurry, and I wished we could get this business permanently mapped out so that I could go on with my work. He said, "I could have put up those eight rods and marched off about my business—some men would have done it. But no; I said to myself, this man is a stranger to me, and I will die before I'll wrong him; there ain't lightning rods enough on that house, and for one I'll never stir out of my tracks till I've done as I would be done by, and told him so. Stranger, my duty is accomplished; if the recalcitrant and dephlogistic messenger of heaven strikes you——" "There, now, there," I said, "put on the other eight—add five hundred feet of spiral twist—do anything and everything you want to do; but calm your sufferings and try to keep your feelings where you can reach them with the dictionary. Meanwhile, if we understand each other now, I will go to work again." I think I have been sitting here a full hour this time, trying to get back to where I was when my train of thought was broken up by the last interruption, but I believe I have accomplished it at last and may venture to proceed again.] [illegible] wrestled with this great subject, and the greatest among them have found it a worthy adversary, and one that always comes up fresh and smiling after every throw. The great Confucius said that he would rather be a profound political economist than chief of police. [illegible] frequently said that political economy [illegible] grandest consummation [illegible] was capable of [illegible] Greeley has said [illegible]

[Here the lightning-rod man sent up another call for me. I went down in a state of mind bordering on impatience. He said he would rather have died than interrupt me, but when he was employed to do a job, and that job was expected to be done in a neat and workmanlike manner, and when it was finished and fatigue urged him to seek the rest and recreation he stood so much in need of, and he was about to do it, but looked up and I saw at a glance that all the calculations had been a little out, and in case a thunder storm came up, and that house, which he felt a personal interest in, stood there with nothing on earth to protect it but sixteen lightning rods—— "Let us have peace!" I shrieked. "Put up a hundred and fifty! Put some on the kitchen! Put a dozen on the barn! Put a couple on the cow! Put one on the cook! scatter them all over the persecuted place till it looks like a zinc-plated, spiral-twisted, silver-mounted cane-brake! Move! Use up all the material you can get your hands on, and when you run out of lightning rods put up ramrods, cam-rods, stair-rods, piston-rods—anything that will pander to your dismal appetite for artificial scenery, and bring respite to my raging brain and healing to my lacerated soul!" Wholly unmoved—further than to smile sweetly—this iron being simply turned back his wristbands daintily, and said he would now proceed to hump himself. Well, all that was nearly three hours ago. It is questionable whether I am calm enough yet to write on the noble theme of political economy, but I cannot resist the desire to try, for it is the one subject that is nearest to my heart and

Three Days Later.—We are all about worn out. For four-and-twenty hours [illegible] I wondered [illegible] ever [illegible] of the country [illegible] speak [illegible] with lows, [illegible] for all the falling [illegible] Fourth of July fireworks of a generation [illegible] simultaneously [illegible] would [illegible] technical display [illegible] my house [illegible] magnificently conspicuous [illegible] general [illegible] By actual count the lightning struck at my establishment seven hundred and sixty-four times in forty minutes, but tripped on one of those faithful rods every time and slid down the spiral twist and shot into the earth before it probably had time to be surprised at the way the thing was done. And through all that bombardment only one patch of slates was ripped up, and that was because, for a single instant, the rods in the vicinity were transporting all the lightning they could possibly accommodate. Well, nothing was ever seen like it since the world began. For one whole day and night not a member of my family stuck his head out of the window but he got the hair snatched off it as smooth as a billiard ball; and if the reader will believe me, not one of us ever dreamt of stirring abroad. But at last the awful siege came to an end because there was absolutely no more electricity left in the clouds above us within grappling distance of my insatiable rods. Then I sallied forth and gathered daring workmen together, and not a bite or a nap did we take till the premises were utterly stripped of all their terrific armament except just three rods on the house, one on the kitchen and one on the barn—and behold these remain there even unto this day. And then, and not till then, the people ventured to use our street again. I will remark here, in passing, that during that fearful time I did not continue my essay upon political economy. I am not even yet settled enough in nerve and brain to resume it.

To Whom It May Concern.—Parties having need of three thousand two hundred and eleven feet of best quality zinc-plated spiral twist lightning-rod stuff and sixteen hundred and thirty-one silver-tipped points, all in tolerable repair (and, although much worn by use, still equal to any ordinary emergency), can hear of a bargain by addressing the publishers of this magazine.

SECURE A HOME!!

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON

[illegible] ONE HUNDRED SHARES [illegible]

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

[illegible] The purpose of the [illegible] ordinary sense of the word. They [illegible] for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their [illegible] upon the co-operation of many individuals [illegible] advance in value [illegible] near the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible] the east side of the [illegible] boundary line being about one-half [illegible] ferry landing at East Portland. [illegible] in one strip along the Wallamet river half a mile in length and another strip along [illegible] California railroad half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle [illegible] rows of blocks (with a street between [illegible]) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square, with streets running at right angles [illegible] [illegible] $60 per share [illegible] will see that a share has represented nearly a lot [illegible] undivided interest in the 50 fractional lots. The 50 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association [illegible] shareholders counting in for the proceeds [illegible] number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sale, after deducting the original price of shares or [illegible] to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or [illegible] premium more or less as the case may be, he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen there that everything is co-operative and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss unless the property by some chance should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself, but considering the steady and unexampled advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood, and at East Portland and vicinity for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks or twenty-four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $[illegible] per share payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to an [illegible] assessment of $ per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full with the assessments as above the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about [illegible] feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad [illegible] every foot of it [illegible] the richest [illegible] land adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract [illegible] sufficient supply of pure water to every part of the whole tract. [illegible] the entire tract [illegible] advantages [illegible] there be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within [illegible] each shareholder [illegible] perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest undivided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.
